

C3 advocates in the halls of Congress

C3 COLORECTAL CANCER COALITION

CALL-ON CONGRESS

Join Us! March 15-18, 2010

Rep. Jim Moran (D-VA) addresses advocates during the training day

Each year, C3 brings together volunteers from across the country to learn about the latest legislative issues affecting cancer patients and their families, and encourage federal legislators to make colorectal cancer a priority. This three-day program includes briefings on current issues facing the colorectal cancer community from leading experts and Members of Congress.

"I speak out for myself—a colorectal cancer survivor of 9 years, for those lost to colorectal cancer, and for those yet diagnosed. The enthusiasm and passion shared by all advocates old and new and the training by C3 ignites the HOPE and FIRE in each one of us to let our voices about colorectal cancer issues be heard."

*Pam Seijo
Beaver, WV*

- ◆ Find out how Congress and the Administration are impacting colorectal cancer research and prevention
- ◆ Learn how you can make a difference in how the federal government views and funds colorectal cancer
- ◆ Speak with your Members of Congress in face-to-face meetings about the need for a stronger commitment to colorectal cancer
- ◆ Take the fight home to your community by fostering strong working relationships with elected officials, recruiting other advocates to help and educating members of the media.

C3 advocates meet with Rep. Jean Schmidt (R-OH)

C3 advocates meet with Rep. Howard Coble (R-NC)

How to Register

Register online at <http://link.fightcrc.org/ConC2010>.

C3 advocates at the 2009 Call-on Congress

For additional information, contact C3's Director of Policy, Catherine Knowles at Catherine.Knowles@FightColorectalCancer.org or at (703) 548-1225 ext. 12.

Registration closes on February 1, 2010, or as soon as we reach capacity, so don't hesitate. Register today!

www.FightColorectalCancer.org

1414 Prince Street, Suite 204 • Alexandria, VA 22314

703-548-1225 • info@FightColorectalCancer.org

C3 COLORECTAL CANCER COALITION